

in this issue:

Comment	3
Building a case for tourism in political decision-making
Profiles	3
Vienna	3
Another domestic market comes to the rescue
A switch in marketing focus to neighbouring sources
Budapest	6
Budapest copes better than expected with excess hotel capacity
New capacity and a Millenium City Centre
France's Côte d'Azur	8
Last year could have been better ...
... but 2002 sees marked revival in foreign demand
A growing cruise business
Dubai	9
Defies 2001 world trends
A testament to public-private sector partnership
Sustained growth expected over the next six years
Las Vegas	13
One of the world's most envied CVBs
Gamblers boost average daily per capita spend
Continued growth in hotel and convention capacity
Singapore	15
Less of a decline than initially forecast
MICE business rebounds strongly
Uncertain outlook
Comparative Trends	17
Hong Kong vs Singapore	17
Airport rail links	18
World airport traffic	20
France's airports	20
Tourism taxes	21
City statistics	23

