

in this issue:

Comment
A different kind of city statistics	3
Markets
US holiday travel	4
US domestic air travel to large cities rebounds
International cities lose share
Profiles
Monte Carlo	6
A very tough year, with most markets down on 2001
New hotel capacity coming on line
Amsterdam	8
A better year than for many European cities
British and Americans more likely to opt for deluxe accommodation
Prague	12
Damage from floods not as bad as feared
Strongest trading performance in Central/Eastern Europe
San Francisco	13
A flat year projected for San Francisco
Business travel well down, but it dominates arrivals
Shanghai	16
Continuing double-digit growth
Shanghai on track to become East Asia's leading business city ...
... but its appeal to leisure travellers is also strong
Comparative Trends
Hotel performance worldwide	18
Hotels in many regions are expecting a better 2003
South African hotels	19
Cape Town's turn to take the limelight
City statistics	21
The final European count for 2001
