

in this issue:

Comment

The diversification of the ocean cruise sector 3

Sector Report

The cruise business worldwide

The cruise market outperforms most other tourism sectors 4
 Health and security concerns
 Cruise line financial performance check
 Focusing on different destinations
 Merger of Carnival and P&O Princess
 Slowdown in new ship orders since 11 September 2001
 Prospects remain bright, especially in terms of passenger numbers

Markets

Ireland outbound 16

Bullish prospects for 2003 and the foreseeable future
 Holiday travel dominates
 More than 50% of holiday trips are to Great Britain and Spain

European online travel 19

61% increase in online sales in 2002
 The UK leads the market ahead of Germany
 The larger the tour operator, the lower the dependence on online sales

Singapore outbound 22

Economic woes have an impact on demand
 Long-haul destinations have suffered the most ...
 ... but stand to gain the most in the long term

US travel through the life stages 24

Singles account for 27% of all US trips
 Baby-boomer singles are the highest spenders on travel
 Decline in travel among younger singles ...
 ... largely due to demographic shifts

Transport

Rail travel 26

Eurotunnel suffers second year of declining traffic ...
 ... but its financial performance was slightly better
 Thalys International seems to be on a sounder footing