

in this issue:

Comment	3
The implications of the falling US dollar for global tourism
Markets
UK outbound	4
Two (conflicting) sets of tourism data – but that's better than none at all
One of Europe's strongest growth markets in recent years
EU attracts almost three-quarters of all trips abroad
Canada outbound	7
Overseas travel shows healthy growth in 2003 ...
... but travel to the USA is still down
Increased internet usage for travel, but fewer bookings
Arabian Gulf outbound	10
One-third cancelled or postponed summer 2003 travel plans
Both holiday and business trips suffered from change of plans
Travel intentions for 2004 favour the Middle East and South Asia ...
... at the expense of North America
China domestic and outbound	13
Surge in domestic tourism reflects China's economic vitality
China confirms its position as leading Asian outbound market
Australia tops destination wish list, ahead of France and the USA
Big growth in ADS countries should boost demand further in 2004
Tour Operators
German tour operators in 2003	17
The toughest year in history
Major changes in the structure of the German tour operator market
Destinations
The Middle East	20
Recovery is well underway for key destinations in the region
A challenging time for hotels despite the strong arrivals growth
Comparative Trends
Spending on international travel	23
Little change in the rankings ...
... but Russia's rapid growth puts it into tenth place	