

in this issue:

Comment	3
50 years on, PATA continues to lead the way
Markets
Europe outbound	4
Modest growth, but only thanks to VFR travel
Russia records best growth among Europe's market leaders
Massive increase in demand for low-fare airlines
UK business travel	8
Second year of growth
More than 50% of UK business travellers still use travel agents
US online travel	9
Still well ahead of the rest of the world
Air transport generates lion's share of online travel spending ...
... but online agents increase their share of distribution
Mexico outbound	12
Improving economic situation boosts travel demand
But the growth in spending on travel abroad remains healthy
Japan outbound	14
After hitting rock bottom in 2003 ...
... 2004 should see double-digit growth in trips and spending
Tour Operators/Travel Agents
European tour operators	16
Reserved optimism after a mixed performance in 2003
Healthy growth in demand for long-haul from Europe overall
New business models starting to emerge
German retail travel agents	18
Short-lived recovery in sales after three years of decline
Leisure travel sales fare worse than sales of business travel
Increased consolidation in the sector
Comparative Trends
Air transport	21
Improving traffic growth through first five months ...
... but costs remain a major worry
World tourism	22
Clear signs of a rebound
Update on the world's leading tourism destinations	