

in this issue:

Comment	3
Dynamic packaging drives tour operators' online sales
Markets
Germany outbound	4
2001 spending record finally broken, although trip volume is still down
Bulk of trips and spending goes to Europe
Business travel outperforms leisure travel
Spain outbound	9
A record year in terms of growth and absolute volume
Long-haul destinations are starting to attract significant numbers
The Americas are showing the best potential
United Arab Emirates outbound	12
UAE is second largest outbound market in the Middle East
Family travel dominates
Racism fears continue to drive travel choice
Australia outbound	15
Strong rebound in 2004 looks set to continue
USA and UK vie for second place in the destination ranking
Singapore and Hong Kong are mainly visited for stopovers
Tour Operating/Travel Distribution
European tour operators	17
Heading for another year of moderate growth in 2005
TUI is the online travel powerhouse in Europe
Expedia	19
Strengthening its presence outside the USA
Destination packages will be a main area of growth
Expedia is not targeting the last-minute traveller
Destinations
North America	23
Back to healthy growth after three years of declines
Canada re-allocates funds to markets showing the highest ROI
USA still a long way off complete recovery
Comparative Trends
World tourism	27
China and Hong Kong emerge as the main winners
... but statistical comparisons remain suspect	